PROJECTS

Pharmacy-Management-System (11/2023 - 01/2024)

-- A pharmacy management system (PMS) is a specialized software designed to streamline and automate various pharmacy operations, including inventory management, prescription processing, billing, and patient record management. The "master" part of "pharmacy-management-system-master" likely refers to the core or primary version of such a system, often including all the essential features and functionalities for managing a pharmacy.

Credit Fraud Detection (02/2024 - 03/2024)

--A credit card fraud detection project aims to identify fraudulent credit card transactions using machine learning techniques. The project involves analyzing historical transaction data, identifying patterns indicative of fraud, and building a model to classify new transactions as either legitimate or fraudulent.

Cyber Threat Intelligence Using HONEYPOTS:

--A Honeypot is a cybersecurity mechanism designed to detect, deflect, or study cyber threats. A cyber threat refers to any potential malicious activity or event that can harm digital systems, networks, or data. Cyber threats can come from individuals, groups, or automated systems intending to steal, damage, or disrupt digital assets
